

McClintic

Entered into rest on Thursday, Feb. 19th, at 12 o'clock.

Sarah Machir, eldest daughter of the late Moses McClintic, M. D.

Miss McClintic was born in Hampshire County, Virginia, Sept. 24, 1840. She came with her family to the West while a child, they living for some years near Palmyra. In 1855 they came to Monroe, and here she spent the remainder of her life. She was the oldest member of St. Jude's church, having been with her eldest brother Chester, members of the first congregation when the parish church was located in the country. She had been a continuous and faithful worshipper in St. Jude's for almost sixty years. She was a faithful teacher in the Sunday School until her increasing years rendered her duties there impossible; and she was always actively interested in the mission work of the church. Whenever the weather and her health would permit, she was always in her place at church, the last occasion being on Everybody's Sunday, Feb. 1st. A week later she was taken with la-grippe and after an illness of ten days passed quietly away.

The funeral took place from St. Jude's church on Friday, Feb. 20, conducted by the Rector, Rev. H. L. Hoover, assisted by the Rev. Robt. Long, Rector of St. Paul's, Palmyra.

Miss Mack will be greatly missed; hers was an unusual personality, a faithful friend, a good neighbor, a noble christian woman of a type of which there are but few left.

She is survived by her two brothers older than she, John Inskip and William Shaukin McClintic; two sisters, Miss Susan Vass and Mrs. Alice Jordan, and several nieces and one nephew.

Father in Thy gracious keeping Leave we now Thy servant sleeping."

Obituary.

Mrs. Emma Miles died Thursday, February 19, 1914. She was the wife of Willie Tom Miles, and this is the first death which has occurred in the family. Why Mrs. Emma Miles should be called away from a cheerful and healthy life cannot be understood. All we know was that her work was over and God called her to her home that she might wait for those who are left. She was a good woman, a kind neighbor, had a bright and beautiful disposition and brought pleasure to those around her. Her passing away will leave a place that cannot be filled. The memory of her sweet character, loving tenderness and pure life are the greatest comfort her loved children and husband could have. May God comfort them and lead them through the dark hour of sorrow to the sunshine of life again. May her children always feel that she is near them to watch over and guide them through all the troubles of this life, for she is earnestly praying for them and their welfare.

Mrs. Miles was born near Indian Creek, November 16, 1854. Besides her husband she leaves three children, namely: Mrs. Irma Garner of Quincy, John and Marie Miles; two sisters, Mrs. James Carrio, of Alberta, Canada, and Mrs. Barbara Hardesty of this city, one half-sister, Mrs. Edward Carrio also of Monroe, two brothers, R. Little of Hannibal, and John Little of Monroe. On Saturday morning funeral services were conducted at the Catholic church at Indian Creek, after which the remains were laid to rest in St. Stephen's cemetery.

C. A. Lawson has stored part of his furniture and moved the remainder in with his father-in-law, W. O. Foreman, where the family will stay while their new home in Prairie View addition is being built. Mr. Lawson will commence work on a ten room house as soon as the weather will permit. They expect to have the house completed by the first of June.

Onion as Medicine.

A northern scientist now comes forward to defend the onion, which he says, is a real specific for colds. All one has to do when his eyes begin to water and his nose to run, is to eat onions, and the trouble will go away. Of course, his friends will go away too, at least temporarily, but that does not argue that the onion isn't good medicine.—Ex.

Boldness and Faith.

Boldness and faith go together; fear and unbelief go together. If ye will not believe, surely ye shall not be established. It is always want of faith that is at the bottom of all fear. Why are ye fearful.—F. R. Havernal.

Afraid of Lawyers.

An old colored man, charged with stealing chickens, was arraigned in court and was incriminating himself when the judge said: "You ought to have a lawyer. Where is your lawyer?"

"Ah ain't got no lawyer, jedge," said the old man.

"Very well, then," said his honor, "I'll assign a lawyer to defend you."

"Oh, no, sub; no, sub! Please don't do dat!" the darky begged.

"Why not?" asked the judge. "It won't cost you anything. Why don't you want a lawyer?"

"Well, jedge, Ah'll tell you, sub," said the old man, waving his tattered old hat confidentially. "Hit's jes dis way—Ah wan' tuh enjoy dem chickens mahse'f!"—Ex.

Four hundred thousand prairie dogs in the Cochetopa and Dike national forests in Colorado and the Tusayan and Coconino forests in Arizona have been killed by the department of agriculture since its campaign of destruction was declared on the rodents. In a statement issued recently the department says that this work was done at a cost of about $2,000, which is a mere trifle when compared with the value of the forage upon which the dogs lived. It is estimated that the forage which the rodents devoured would have been sufficient for about 15,500 sheep or about 1,800 head of cattle value at $150,000.—Leonard News.
